WORLD ARTS AND CULTURES/DANCE

MISSION STATEMENT

Defined by a dynamic blend of theory and practice, World Arts and Cultures/Dance (WACD) is led by a renowned faculty of scholars, activists, curators, filmmakers, and choreographers dedicated to critical cross-cultural analysis and art-making. Our department is the place to make dances, explore digital media, curate exhibitions, become an arts activist, and develop scholarly expertise in culture and the arts. We draw upon multiple disciplines and artistic approaches while encouraging students to position their work within broad social contexts.

In our World Arts and Cultures BA, we emphasize arts activism, visual cultures, and critical ethnographies. The Dance BA integrates composition, training, and improvisation, while challenging students to locate dance politically, culturally, and historically. The Art & Global Health Center enables undergraduate and graduate students to explore art as a life-saving activity.

WACD's path-breaking programs are committed to academic excellence, diversity, freedom of expression, activism, and social transformation through the arts.

SCOPE AND OBJECTIVES

Guided by an interdisciplinary faculty of artists and arts scholars, the academic programs in the Department of World Arts and Cultures/Dance (WAC/D) has three overlapping missions: (1) the formulation of critical theoretical and intercultural insights into artistic creativity and the politics of representation, (2) the creation and study of dance and other body-based modes of performance, and (3) mutually beneficial engagement with the diverse cultural and artistic communities of Los Angeles.

The department is an interdisciplinary unit that finds its raison d'être in a set of intellectual and artistic problems rather than an established academic discipline. By looking to world arts, the department seeks to decenter Western perspectives by recognizing that visual and performance art and other ways of knowing are situated locally and often made and distributed globally. Faculty members, who have international standing and are engaged in both creative artistic work and research, are interlocutors in dialogues about the frictions and flows implicated by the department's name. As such, World Arts and Cultures/Dance is defined by a dynamic interdisciplinary approach that encourages intercultural literacies and repertoires, including and transcending geography, ethnicity, class, and other distinctions of identity.

The undergraduate program offers majors in Dance, and in World Arts and Cultures.

The B.A. in Dance thoroughly integrates learning to dance, learning to make dances, and critical interrogation of dance as a cultural practice. Students study a variety of dance movement practices from around the world throughout their studies. They enroll in a four-term sequence in dance composition, with additional opportunities to participate in the creation of their own dances, as well as working as dancers in the creation of new works by faculty members and visiting artists. Further, they engage in a core of four courses in the study of scholarly discourse around the body and dance, launching a critical inquiry into their own study of bodily practices, internalization of the embodied experience, and how bodily ideas and embodied experiences are interpreted and communicated, both locally and globally.

The B.A. in World Arts and Cultures highlights culture and representation as key perspectives for understanding creativity in local and global arenas. Three areas of cross-cultural and interdisciplinary study are available: arts activism, critical ethnographies, and visual cultures. These areas define the department commitment to a range of practices, including ethnography, activism, visual and related expressive arts, documentary and short films, museum and curatorial studies, performance, and other creative perspectives and methods. Courses combine theory and practice and are grounded in culturally diverse artistic expressions.

All students are encouraged to complement the required set of core and elective departmental courses with others offered across campus, such as courses from ethnic and area studies programs, and may organize their course of study in relation to particular interests or professional goals (e.g., international comparative studies, intercultural studies, education, area specializations such as Africa, Asia, or Latin America, minority discourse, gender studies).

Undergraduates and graduates have excelled in fields including technology and the arts, videography, documentary work, public service, education, theatrical/events production, performing arts, urban planning, law, environmental activism, public health, and medicine. They have made careers in community nonprofits and activist groups, government arts agencies, museums, and arts foundations. Potential careers for M.A., Ph.D., and M.F.A. graduates also include positions in research universities and colleges, and M.F.A. graduates are active as choreographers/performers in their own companies or with other professional organizations.

VICE CHAIR OF UNDERGRADUATE AFFAIRS WELCOME

Welcome to WAC/D!

To newcomers, we wish you a provocative and rich learning experience in your time at this department. Continuing students who are returning after the summer, we hope you had a rejuvenating break and are ready to dive into the vibrant life at WAC/D.

Dance history and studies, choreography, ethnography, performance, curation, community-based arts, documentary — these are some of the key creative avenues through which our faculty and students channel their energies. A community of renowned scholars, activists, curators, filmmakers and choreographers, WAC/D is dedicated to critical cross-cultural analysis and art-making. Our curricula energetically blend theory with practice. We place equal value on classroom learning and hands-on experience of making and experiencing the arts in our communities and the world, more broadly.

We wish you a productive time at this department. We urge you to explore and cultivate interest in some of the many avenues that are on offer, both within and outside the classroom in the form of numerous extra-curricular activities hosted at WAC/D. In this department you will encounter varied art forms and media; complex and insightful theoretical debate with leaders who shape disciplines and, disparate approaches to classroom instruction and learning. To make the most of your learning experience, we strongly encourage you to embrace this dynamic and vibrant environment in the fullest.

“World Arts and Cultures Undergraduate Society” (WACUS) and the World Arts and Cultures Advisory Council” (WACDAC) are two student bodies for WAC/D undergraduates. These bodies represent YOU and without you they do not have purpose. Please get involved through the regular meetings and activities these bodies organize.

In closing, I am eager to meet you in person and learn about your career at WAC/D. Please feel free to stop by my office, room 130D Kaufman Hall, during office hours (listed on the notice board outside my office for each quarter). You can also reach me by email to make an individual appointment: a.sharma@arts.ucla.edu

We look forward to working with you and wish you every success in your endeavors at WAC/D.

Sincerely,

Aparna Sharma, Vice Chair, Professor

DANCE SENIOR HONORS PROJECT

The Senior Honors Project (DANCE 186A and 186B) is an option for the Dance major. The Senior Honors Project is intended as a capstone experience, a creative culmination of the major focus/foci of the students' studies in WACD. It is an in-depth, rigorous endeavor; an opportunity to apply the skills and knowledge that each individual student has accumulated. It can be a launching pad for individual career vectors. Through these projects, individual students begin developing networks of relationships with others working in their fields of interest both within and outside the university. Only the strongest proposals will be considered.

The collective aspect of the experience is also very important. By tracking and supporting each other's processes, students will have the opportunity to problem-solve for each other, to hone critical thinking skills across disciplinary lines, and to develop abilities to articulate that thinking.

The senior project course sequence meets both winter and spring quarter with the final presentation in spring quarter.

Preparation for the Senior Honors Project:

Students planning to present work in any medium will need to work closely with their faculty advisors in order to be appropriately prepared to present their work. Along with the required DANCE 70 production credit, performance-based students are strongly encouraged to take DANCE 171 (Topics in Production Design) to strengthen their knowledge of production. Prior completion of choreographic or project-creation work must be evident. Performance-based students are also strongly encouraged to present choreographic works on or off campus prior to their senior project year. If a student's project involves a video component, they are required to successfully complete a video production course (such as DANCE C180) prior to Winter quarter of their senior year.

Students making presentations based on projects they have undertaken in the community, either as part of a school system or as dance based interventions in community development are expected to have completed an individual course of studies specifically relevant to their projects. For example, if a student wishes to develop a presentation around their work in the schools, they would complete coursework through such departments as WACD, The Visual and Performing Arts Education Minor (VAPAE), Education, Arts Education, etc so as to better prepare prior to their Senior Project work.

Students making presentations based upon scholarly research and/or ethnographic documentation are expected to have completed an individual course of studies specifically relevant to the content of their projects. (For example, a student whose project focuses on performance in South Africa should take relevant courses in African Studies, both inside and outside of the Department.) Students planning to use video, HTML-based web design, or computer graphics must have prior experience in these technologies.

Students planning to work collaboratively or to create interdisciplinary projects that cross the boundary between scholarship and performance should be prepared to specify their plans in considerable detail. (While we do want to encourage collaborative work, students should be aware that expectations for a project involving two people are twice as high as those for an individual project.)

Entering Freshman/ Checklist (Dance Major)

Below is a checklist outlining the graduation requirements for an entering freshman pursuing the Dance Major. This sample schedule is a suggestion as to how a student may complete their major and University/School requirements to graduate. Course offerings are subject to change. It is the student's responsibility to ensure all requirements are met. Students should consult with WACD Counselor each quarter to confirm specific course selection.

*To be considered a full-time student (especially for the purpose of financial aid), students must be enrolled in a minimum of 12 units each quarter.

**DANCE 16, 67A and B are prerequisites of 117A and 117B. 117A and 117B may be taken out of sequence.

NOTE:

1. Courses must be taken for a letter-grade to count towards the major. The only exception is when the course is only offered as P/NP.
2. DANCE 70 is offered every quarter. This required class offers credit to students when they help with the production of a departmental performance or event. Students should take this course by the end of their sophomore year at the latest.
3. Sr. Honors Project (DANCE 186A/B) is an option. Consult with WACD Counselor or faculty during junior year.
4. Students are required to complete 48 units of Movement Practice, which are approximately two movement courses per quarter. Should a student become injured during any given quarter, they will need to discuss the injury with their instructor(s) to assess whether the student will be unable to participate in more than two weeks of their movement practice course(s). If the instructor(s) determines that the injury will prevent the student from participating in their course(s) for more than two weeks, the student is highly recommended to DROP the course(s). The DROP deadline for non-impacted courses is the Friday of the fourth week of the quarter and students can drop through my.UCLA. Should the injury occur after the fourth week of instruction, the student is responsible for obtaining the LATE DROP petition from the department's Student Affairs Office or the Office of Student Services. Both the student and instructor will need to fill out the front and back of the petition explaining the type of injury, why the student is unable to participate in more than two weeks of instruction, and submit the petition to the Office of Student Services as soon as possible. Please note that approved LATE DROP petitions are assessed a LATE DROP fee and the drop will be noted on the transcript. Students who acquire an injury are also encouraged to reach out to the Center for Accessible Education to request any needed support.
5. Petitions submitted the quarter of graduation are more likely to not be approved.
6. Refer to UCLA's School of Arts and Architecture Proficiency and General Education Requirements for University and School requirements to graduate.
7. UCLA requires that of the minimum 180 units required to graduate. At least 64 units must be upper division level. At least 12 units must be designated as Upper Division Non-Major.
8. Students must carry a 3.0 overall GPA and a 3.0 GPA from the previous quarter (with all courses passed) in order to take over 20 units in any given quarter. To take over 20 units any quarter requires approval by The School of the Arts and Architecture.
9. To be considered a full-time student (especially for the purpose of financial aid), students must be enrolled in a minimum of 12 units each quarter.
10. Students planning to study abroad must receive approval from the School of the Arts and Architecture. It is highly advised for students to see the WACD Counselor for course planning and scheduling both here and abroad before studying abroad.

Below is a checklist outlining the graduation requirements for entering transfer students pursuing the Dance Major. This plan assumes that all general education requirements (including the Foreign Language requirement) have been met as well as some lower division Dance requirement equivalents. The plan also assumes that the student will have received at least 20 quarter units of dance Movement Practices credit at entrance. Students should consult with the WACD Counselor each quarter to confirm specific course selection.

Entering Transfer/Sample Schedule (Dance Major)

Below is a sample two-year plan outlining the graduation requirements for an entering transfer student pursuing the Dance Major. This plan assumes that all general education requirements (including the Foreign Language Requirement) have been met. The plan also assumes that the student will have received at least 20 quarter units of dance Movement Practices credit at entrance. Courses in BOLD during junior year should be taken the quarter indicated.

This sample schedule is a suggestion as to how a student may complete their major and University/School requirements to graduate. Course offerings are subject to change. It is the student's responsibility to ensure all requirements are met. Students should consult with WACD Counselor each quarter to confirm specific course selection.

*To be considered a full-time student (especially for the purpose of financial aid), students must be enrolled in a minimum of 12 units each quarter.

**DANCE 16, 67A and B are prerequisites of 117A and 117B. 117A and 117B may be taken out of sequence.

NOTE:

1. Courses must be taken for a letter-grade to count towards the major. The only exception is when the course is only offered as P/NP.
2. DANCE 70 is offered every quarter. This required class offers credit to students when they help with the production of a departmental performance or event. Students should take this course by the end of their sophomore year at the latest.
3. Sr. Honors Project (DANCE 186A/B) is an option. Consult with Student Affairs Officer during Junior year.
4. Students are required to complete 48 units of Movement Practice, which are approximately two movement courses per quarter. Should a student become injured during any given quarter, they will need to discuss the injury with their instructor(s) to assess whether the student will be unable to participate in more than two weeks of their movement practice course(s). If the instructor(s) determines that the injury will prevent the student from participating in their course(s) for more than two weeks, the student is highly recommended to DROP the course(s). The DROP deadline for non-impacted courses is the Friday of the fourth week of the quarter and students can drop through my.UCLA. Should the injury occur after the fourth week of instruction, the student is responsible for obtaining the LATE DROP petition from the department's Student Affairs Office or the Office of Student Services. Both the student and instructor will need to fill out the front and back of the petition explaining the type of injury, why the student is unable to participate in more than two weeks of instruction, and submit the petition to the Office of Student Services as soon as possible. Please note that approved LATE DROP petitions are assessed a LATE DROP fee and the drop will be noted on the transcript. Students who acquire an injury are also encouraged to reach out to the Center for Accessible Education to request any needed support.
5. Transfer equivalents may be determined when meeting with the WACD Counselor.
6. Petitions submitted the quarter of graduation are more likely to not be approved.
7. Petitions submitted the quarter of graduation are more likely to not be approved.
8. Refer to UCLA's School of Arts and Architecture Proficiency and General Education Requirements for University and School requirements to graduate.
9. UCLA requires that of the minimum 180 units required to graduate. At least 64 units must be upper division level. At least 12 units must be designated as Upper Division Non-Major.
10. To graduate with Latin Honors, transfer students must complete a minimum of 90 graded units at UCLA with a specific GPA (which is recalculated by the School of the Arts and Architecture each year).
11. Students must carry a 3.0 overall GPA and a 3.0 GPA from the previous quarter (with all courses passed) in order to take over 20 units in any given quarter. To take over 20 units any quarter requires approval by The School of the Arts and Architecture.
12. To be considered a full-time student (especially for the purpose of financial aid), students must be enrolled in a minimum of 12 units each quarter.
13. Students planning to study abroad must receive approval from the School of the Arts and Architecture. It is highly advised for students to see the WACD Counselor for course planning and scheduling both here and abroad before studying abroad.

WAC SENIOR PROJECT and SENIOR FOCUS

WAC majors are required to complete 10 units of either “Senior Project” or “Senior Focus”. Senior Projects are a competitive option and students MUST plan a Senior Focus in case their proposal for a Senior Project is not approved. The learning acquired through the Senior Project or Senior Focus is designed as a capstone of the senior experience within the WAC major. Both Senior Project and Senior Focus provide students an opportunity to explore an area, or areas, of interest specific to the WAC Major.

Senior Projects (WL ARTS 186A and 186B) offers a hands-on opportunity for students to explore a project of interest—such as a thesis paper, documentary film, performance piece, exhibition, etc. The range of projects is vast and we strongly encourage experimental and creative modes of thinking and making. If the Senior Project Proposal is approved, students complete their Senior Project within WL ARTS 186A (5 units) in winter of senior year and WL ARTS 186B (5 units) in spring of senior year. In order to participate in Senior Projects, students must first start speaking to possible WACD faculty professors who may become faculty mentors of their Senior Project.

Students who have a stronger chance of being selected for Senior Projects will have, or will be close to completing their WAC major’s core coursework, and will have taken WAC Stream courses most relevant to their project. They will have acquired relevant theoretical and practical skills through course-work and will be prepared to independently complete a project they have envisioned.

Senior Focus is a second pathway for completing Senior-level requirements of the WAC Major. Senior Focus includes 10 units of proposed and approved coursework. This coursework should exemplify the student’s particular area (or areas) of interest and how these courses can serve the students educational and career goals. Often, students take on Senior Focus when they want to acquire deeper level of critical and analytical understanding pertaining to a field of study. Some examples of Senior Foci include: Film as tool for Social Change, Gender in Cinema, Ethnographic Film Aesthetics, Curatorial Studies, to name a few.

Some WAC students will find that Senior Projects option is not well suited for them because it is set in a larger classroom context and they may prefer a more independent and highly specialized study experience. The Senior Focus option DOES require students to independently select, propose, justify, and execute their coursework. Students who select Senior Focus may utilize internship credits (such as WL ARTS 195’s “Community or Corporate Internship,” and/or WL ARTS 199 “Directed Research Internship”) so as to be directly mentored by a WAC faculty member to complete specialized coursework and outputs including research papers. Please note students are permitted to utilize a maximum of 8 units of WL ARTS 195 credit, and a maximum of 8 units of WL ARTS 199 credit.
